WHO IS

MEDECINS SANS FRONTIERES?

Wherever people are in crisis, Médecins Sans Frontières is there.

As an independent medical organisation, Médecins Sans Frontières (Doctors Without Borders), exists to save lives. We work in over 70 countries, delivering emergency medical care in the aftermath of natural disasters, through deadly epidemics, for refugees fleeing violence, and patients on the frontline of conflict.

Our teams witness the results of conflict, neglect and disaster which often escape broader international attention. We are therefore committed to speaking out about these crises to alleviate suffering, protect life and to restore respect for fundamental human rights.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

A great, simple way to help Médecins Sans Frontières is through Workplace Giving.

Workplace Giving allows employees to make regular donations to Médecins Sans Frontières directly from their gross salary.

It is quick to set up, employees can alter or cancel at any time with no lock in contracts and it is received at minimal cost to Médecins Sans Frontières, making a real difference to the lives of our patients.
